

Fashion Design

Fashion design constitutes the design, production and marketing of clothing, and can range from industrial to leisure goods across a range of sectors. Students are taught to develop and design fashion ideas from a range of starting points, and how to plan, visually illustrate, and construct their designs.

Art Foundation Specialist Pathway

Art Foundation alumni who specialised in Fashion Design

Nahoko Kubara from Japan, progressed to study Fashion at Instituto Marangoni, London

Ya Lu Huang (Elise) from China, progressed to London College of Fashion (UAL) to study Fashion Management

Merve Edis from Turkey, progressed to University of the Arts London to study Fashion Marketing

Nagima Tleupova from Kazakhstan, progressed to Middlesex University to study Fashion Communication and Styling

"Apart from the vast amounts of attention that students receive from the tutors, [there] is an amazing stream of inspiration coming from the staff. I've always been fascinated by the amount of care they put into relationships and their involvement with students' lives including their successes and difficulties."

Kristina Kurkina from Russia progressed to Kingston University to study Fashion

Seohu Kim (South Korea), Alena Karimova (Russia), Yimei Chen (China) progressed to Ravensbourne (Yimei and Alena) and Instituto Marangoni Milan (Seohu). Watch a video of Alena, Seohu and Yimei by following the QR code:

Ju Hyun Joung from South Korea, progressed to study Fashion Marketing at the University of Southampton

Kings
Education for Life