

Art Foundation alumni who specialised in Product Design

"I was really sure I wanted to study Product Design. Staff at Kings helped me look through the different universities and find which would be suitable for me. We found that Leeds is the best choice for me. The staff first listened to my requirements – what kind of course I would prefer and what kind of cities. I really enjoyed the time preparing my portfolio at Kings. I liked my working journey, the changing ideas and was really pleased with my final outcome. This portfolio brought me to Leeds and helped me to get a scholarship here.."

Zhengzheng Huang from China progressed to study Product Design at the University of Leeds

Dong Han from China, progressed to study Product Design at UAL

Mathilde Wittock from Belgium, progressed to study Product Design at Central Saint Martins (UAL)

Eunseo Kim, from South Korea, progressed to study Product Design at Middlesex University

Product Design

As a product designer, you'll be able to influence and improve the world around you, making products from scratch to the final prototype. Ideal for students with backgrounds in art, product design offers a mix of creativity, manufacturing and materials and commercial awareness.

Kings
Education for Life